

Breakfast Run 27 Feb 2011 – Amazing Ride

This BFR was always going to be an amazing race, and so it turned out – but for different reasons.

This was the race amongst two teams that never were. Our one Road Captain, Chris Blignaut, inspected a concrete island on a dark, rainy evening during the week prior and after several summersaults landed quite hard on his head. Thankfully our Chris is made of rugby player material and he only has a few stitches to the side of his left eye and a several bruised ribs.

So the two packs became one and 33+1 bikes left the Dros. (Fortunately the +1 stuck to the pack this time and Johann Weideman completed the ride in style). The first stop was at Bugatti's in Centurion where coffee was washed down with a light breakfast (or was it the other way around?).

The pack then managed to find the next stop which was Bugatti's in Wonderboom. What made our ride nice was that the rain gave us a break and the ride was completed dry.

It was great fun and our Head Road Captain Norman and his team of Marshalls got us all safely there, on what turned out to be a challenging route.

Here is a clue for the 5th March Breakfast Run: Bom Dia, agradável passeio
